IYYUN: /ee-YUN/(hebrew) 1. mindful examination
2.deep exploration 3.introspection

IYYUN is a not-for-profit organization founded by Rav DovBer Pinson and dedicated to the study and experience of Jewish spirituality. IYYUN explores the three dimensions of human reality: The Mind, The Heart and The Body.

IYYUN creates opportunities for people of all backgrounds to deeply examine and understand the intellectual, emotional and physical within themselves in the light of Jewish spiritual teachings and the wisdom of Torah.

IYYUN seeks to unify the disparate intellectual, emotional and physical dimensions of the human experience into a complete whole, empowering men and women to realize their full potential, and together build a global spiritual community.

IYYUN PUBLICATIONS

IYYUN publishes original Rosh Hashanah & Yom Kippur Prayer Books with explanation and Kabbalistic meditations. Original Chanukah and Purim readers are produced annually. In 2010, IYYUN began to publish full length books under the name 'IYYUN Publications', selling on Amazon.com

IYYUN WEBSITE

The website is developed as a means of making accessible the deepest teachings of Torah to a universal audience, helping people feel empowered and spiritually uplifted.

THE IYYUN SHUL is a synagogue without doors, where all are welcome to experience prayer and meditation in an open, warm and spiritual atmosphere. It is a place to engage in the experience of prayer- "avodat ha'lev" - the work of the heart. An introspective, deeply personal experience, prayer and meditation with Iyyun is an opportunity to examine and develop one's deepest self and embark on the process of personal growth. No reservations, no membership and no fees.

We are open to all and drop-ins are always welcome.

THE IYYUN KOLLEL

The IYYUN Kollel is a center of spirituality, study and creativity in Brownstone Brooklyn. The IYYUN Kollel is the only adult study center in the country dedicated to delving into the four levels of Torah, with a special emphasis on Chassidus and Kabbalah. It is designed specifically to train and empower passionate seekers of Truth who will use their learning to contribute to the Jewish People and to the whole world, each in their own way, through writing, art, music, healing and lecturing.

The Kollel nourishes spirituality while encouraging critical thought and the building of community. In addition to a Rabbinic program, men and women from across the cultural spectrum are invited to engage with Torah, wrestle with Talmud, and delve into the teachings of the Kabbalah.

CLASSES: In addition to classes at the Yeshiva, Rabbi Pinson offers classes weekly around the city, as posted on the website, and travels worldwide to lecture on a wide variety of topics.

THE IYYUN CENTER

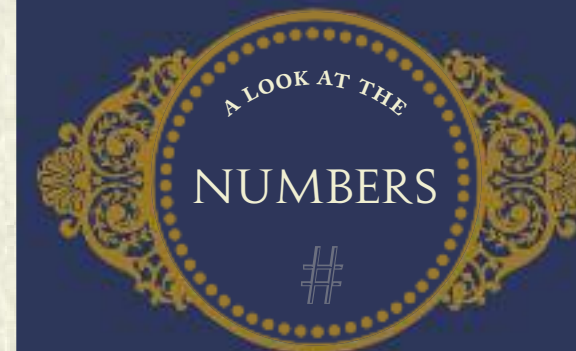

is a space for personal growth and transformation through the rich teachings of Torah and the experiences of Jewish life. The center provides a welcoming and non-judgmental atmosphere for people of all backgrounds to experience the deeply intellectual and emotional experiences of Judaism brought to life in a vibrant and joyous setting.

By combining the deep teachings of Torah with activities such as Chanukah Celebrations, Purim Parties, Pesach Seders, Lag B'Omer Gatherings, Summer & Holiday Retreats, High Holiday & Holiday Events, Women's Rosh Chodesh Circle and various social actions, the IYYUN center communicates the soul meaning of Jewish tradition with joy, love and openness.

CAMPAIGN GOAL:

OBJECTIVES:

Raise enough capital to purchase 650 Sackett, a 2 story building in the Gowanus neighborhood, to house the growing needs of IYYUN.

Renovate and outfit the property to serve as a shul, a kollel/library and a center for jewish learning and experience. The extra, raw space within the property will facilitate the growth of the IYYUN Kollel, programming for children, and more. The center will house offices and kitchen space as well.

THE BUILDING: 650 SACKETT STREET IN THE HEART OF BROWNSTONE BROOKLYN

Upstairs hallway, with view of the existing kitchenette.

Upstairs hallway.

Upstairs room - there are 3 in total. Can be used for office/classroom/library space.

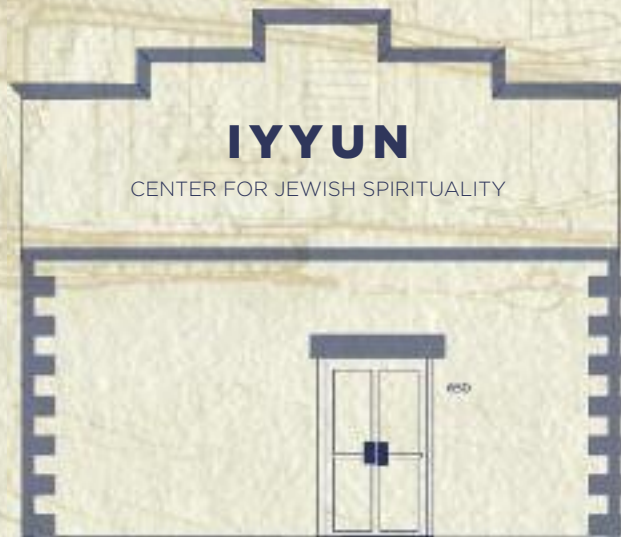

Main Floor. Space to be used for Shul.

Main Floor. Shul space, facing the entrance.

Raw adjoining space. To be used for expansion in the future. Good for larger events and/or rental space.
